ARTILLERY SUPPORT AND FIRE SUPPORT COORDINATION

a. Significant Events.

At 0755H on 1 Dec, the Howtar Battery displaced five guns to (YD 882136) during the conduct of a battalion firing demonstration. The demonstration emphasized massing the fires of the battalion on defensive concentrations, and firing the barrage with the Howtar Battery. Later in the day, a U.S. Army Calibration team calibrated the 18 howitzers in the 4th Battalion.

During the night of 1 Dec, at 2000H and 2125H, illumination missions were fired for elements of 3/4 in contact with VC at (YD 816174) and (YD 921111). Both missions were completed but no surveillance obtained.

On 2 Dec, I Battery displaced four guns to (YD 882116) at 0730H and Battery M moved two guns forward to (YD 859118) at 1140H. Battery I conducted observed missions on suspected enemy positions in the west sector of the TAOR, and M fired H&I missions.

At 021305H, the AO adjusted M on 2 VC at (YD 783094). The area was well covered, but no surveillance of the enemy was obtained after firing.

The Howtar Battery conducted a night occupation of positions moving to (YD 871130) at 021900H and returning to their primary positions at 2130H.

I Battery fired ten observed missions on suspected VC harboring sites and avenues of approach in the southern portion of the TAOR on 3 D Dec. The Battery occupied a forward position at (YD 871130) at 0915H, and returned to primary position at 1550H after firing several H&I missions.

At 031850H, an AO attached to 3/4 requested fire on a squad of VC at (YD 880975). No surveillance of the mission was possible due to darkness.

Two rounds of illumination and seven rounds of HE were fired in support of a 3/4 ambush at 032010H in the vicinity of (YD 9607). No surveillance was obtained.

At 050755H the Howtar Battery displaced to (YD 868118). Ten observed missions were fired on suspected assembly areas, avenues of approach, and CPs in the western portion of the TAOR. The missions were observed by an OP group of Scout Observer Trainees manning OP Range (YD 855733).

Between 050430H and 050500H the battalion fired a preparation for ARVN on a sweep SW of the TAOR near TRUOI BRIDGE. Later in the day, members of the new K Co, 3/4 were alerted by firing in their defensive concentrations with shell sacks.

b. Significant events. The Battalion Aid Station assumed all medical functions in the facilities vacated by 3/4 on 23 December 1965. Medical supplies were broken out, emergency resuscitation made available and sterilization of instruments began.

c. Medical trends. 154 individual cases of diarrhea were treated during the reporting period. Laboratory results are incomplete at this time but both amoebic and bacillary dysentery are reported. Ice samples have been sent to Preventive Medicine Section "A" Med and DaNang. A progress report will be included in the next reporting period.

d. Number of battle casualties treated. Three.

e. Number of non-battle casualties treated. 366 men were treated at Battalion Aid Station during the reporting period.

f. Preventive medicine and sanitation. Malaria prophylaxis tablets are taken weekly by each individual attached to this unit. Messing facilities are inspected daily. Particular attention is given to food preparation, sanitizing of utensils and general maintenance of the area. Cooks and messmen are inspected every other day and have had laboratory examinations for amoebic dysentery. Head and urinal facilities are polished twice daily. Hand washing facilities have been provided for each head. Three times weekly each head is lined, burned and an application of residual insecticide is applied. Heads and urinals are mowed as necessary. Berthing spaces are inspected weekly to insure that perishable foods are not being stored or consumed in these spaces. Attention is given to maintenance and spacing of personnel. A sanitizing solution is furnished the barber shops to insure proper cleaning of combs, scissors and other instruments. All barbers have been instructed in the use of this solution. Barber shops are inspected three times a week. Erratic chlorine residual counts have been obtained from water procured from the Army water point. Therefore, the Engineer Platoon has erected a water point to insure a standard chlorine count is maintained. Hourly chlorine residual counts will be taken and the water point will be inspected daily. A substantial rodent population has been observed throughout the area. A crash program of poison baiting stations and live trap stations will be instituted. A progress report on this project will be included in the next reporting period. Good personal hygiene is being stressed to all hands.
