Civil Affairs/Military Government/Community Relations

a. Significant Activities.

(1) On 19 January 1966 Marines and Vietnamese participated in a joint psy war/civic action project in THUY PHUONG YD 821182. The plan called for the introduction of 600 members of People's Action Teams into THUY PHUONG on the two days prior to TET. On the 20th, 500 were to pull out leaving 100 in the village over the holidays. We wished to utilize the propaganda and persuasion capabilities of the PAT's to put across some cogent messages to the Vietnamese people.

One problem coped with was the great curtailment of medical treatment performed at the HUONG THUY District Health Center. VC have mined the road on occasion and warned the people not to go there for treatment. This threat was very effective and cut the members attending sick call drastically.

We accordingly exploited the vulnerability of the VC threat with PAT's and their earnest talks to the people. The battalion sent it's MED CAP Team to a primary school located centrally within the village. The theme of the project was: "If the VC won't let you come to us for treatment then we'll come to you". The villagers responded encouragingly and the doctors treated 208 patients during the afternoon.

The program was the most successful and had the most dramatic impact of any conducted by this battalion to date.

(2) Medical Assistance continues to be our major civic action project. During the month of January 4,675 Vietnamese were treated at daily sick calls or by BAS and A-MED CAP Teams. 219 more received dental care from the Dental Detachment, 3d Medical Battalion. The above figures show a substantial increase over last months totals and indicate that we are progressively reaching more of the populace.

b. Material Distributed.

- (2) 250 lbs Bulgar Wheat.
- (3) 250 lbs. Corn.
- (4) 1609 bars of soap.

On 18 and 19 January and 26 and 27 January a clean-up operation was conducted along National Route # 1 between the National Refugee Center YD 857163 and Dong Da road block YD 867154. Cans, papers, and other litter had become an eyesore in this area. The battalion arranged to send two trucks as a means of removing the litter to the battalion dump. The HUONG THUY District Chief notified the villagers concerned of the pick-up schedule in order that they could assist in cleaning around their homes. The chief also provided Popular Forces personnel to join with the Marines and villagers in the clean-up effort. Sixteen truck loads of trash were removed from along the subject stretch of highway. In addition to vastly improving the looks of this area, the clean-up eliminated a serious health hazard. The villagers were very responsive and cooperative during the conduct of the clean-up.

d. Apparent Results of Civil Affairs Program. The attitude of Vietnamese toward Marines continue to be warm and cooperative. Marines attended a local wedding during January and many were invited to Vietnamese homes during the second day of TET.

(a) The estimated strength of the Viet Cong in the area of operations was approximately 75 - 100 men. In the immediate zone of action the estimated strength was approximately two (2) squads.

(b) Weapons, material, food and ammunition appeared to be in sufficient quantities.

(c) Morale of the Viet Cong could not be determined due to the lack of captives.

(d) Viet Cong units located in the zone of action did not appear to have any prior knowledge of the intentions of friendly forces.

c. Lessons Learned.

(1) In a combined operation of this nature it is of the utmost importance for the commander to have complete control. Radio nets that were used were adequate. U.S. Armed Forces Advisors with ARVN units were on the Bn Tactical Net which proved highly satisfactory.

(2) Operations of this type are of great value, as it gives U.S. Forces the advantage of operating with personnel who know the terrain and language. The most important factor in the operation was the mutual respect gained by ARVN and USMC units working together.

(3) The ARVN units were under complete operational control of U.S. Forces. This procedure provided unity of command and fire support coordination. The latter was enhanced by the attachment of Bn FO and FAC Teams to the ARVN units.

(4) Requests for helicopter support were submitted via the chain of command sufficiently in advance of the operation to allow for concurrent and coordinated planning by the squadron and ground commanders. It is noted that the request for H1M-163 was not confirmed by higher Headquarters until the day prior to the operation. However the essential planning was conducted by mutual consent of the commanders involved.

(5) Due to the distance involved from the airfield to the operating area, coupled with the number of scheduled waves L the squadron planned for and lifted heli teams composed of either 16 ARVN troops or 12 Marines. The foregoing was accomplished by a major reduction in the fuel load. This should be carefully considered in all future operations where a maximum initial lift of troops with a minimum number of helicopters, is desired.

(6) The attachment of certain marine elements to ARVN units (ie. Ontos & Engineers) functioned satisfactorily and further enhanced the concept of a combined operation stressing unity of command.

(7) The use of aerial photographs taken on 12 January for the construction of a MOSIAC of the area proved invaluable. The net effect was a highly accurate representation of the Objective area and terrain features. This was utilized for briefings, orientation and the issuance of the order. It also served as a sound instrument in the selection of LZ's by the air and ground commanders.

1. In accordance with reference (a) the following report is submitted on the subject operation.

e. Enemy.

(1) The Viet Cong unit located in the Objective Area, although unidentified, could possibly have belonged to the C-117 Local Force Company.

(2) Enemy reserves that could have effected our situation consisted of elements of one (1) battalion, possibly the 810th Rein Force Battalion.

(3) Enemy contact during the operation consisted of sporadic small arms fire, an anti tank mine being detonated by a friendly tank and one Viet Cong running from the Objective Area.

(a) The estimated strength of the Viet Cong unit operating in the Objective Area was estimated at two (2) platoons (50-75).

(b) Weapons, material, food ammunition, and morale could not be determined due to the lack of enemy contact or captives.

(c) The lack of Viet Cong units in the Objective Area indicated prior knowledge of the operation and the intentions of friendly forces. Use of observation posts (commanding the friendly forces avenues of approach) by the Viet Cong would have afforded them sufficient warning to withdraw from the area prior to the arrival of friendly units.
